

LAYER CAKE

2008 Shiraz
South Australia

90 POINTS
ROBERT PARKER

“Super Value”

“It has oodles of fruit, a big, thick, juicy mouthfeel, velvety tannins, and lots of crème de cassis, blackberry, peppery, and tar-like notes in a deep, full-bodied, lush style that should drink nicely for 3-4 years.”

Robert Parker, 1/6/10

LAYER CAKE

2007 Primitivo
Puglia, Italy

89 POINTS
ROBERT PARKER

“Super Value”

“With lots of pepper, roasted herbs, meat juices...this spicy wine has an inky ruby/purple color and lots of body. It comes across like a rustic Zinfandel, but with loads of character and personality, displaying an almost savage intensity to its flavors. This is a wild, adventuresome wine. Bring on the pizza!”

Robert Parker, 1/6/10

LAYER CAKE

2008 Malbec
Mendoza, Argentina

91 POINTS
ROBERT PARKER

“Super Value”

“Dense...with notes of blackberry, earth, roasted meats, and a hint of barbecue spice, this wine exhibits great fruit, delicious, full-bodied texture, silky tannins, and a long finish. It does taste more like a $30-50 bottle of Malbec than one that can be purchased for $15.” Robert Parker, 1/6/10

LAYER CAKE

2009 Virgin Chardonnay
Central Coast

“SCREAMING VALUE!”

“Impressive value for everyday drinking...”

It’s a distinctly crisp and refreshing version of chardonnay with an intriguing minerality—think of a blend of sauvignon blanc and Chablis.”

STEPHEN TANZER 6/6/10
