A History of Outstanding Reviews

“There is no better Pinot Grigio being produced in the New World than Luna’s.” Robert Parker

89 POINTS 2009 Vintage, Stephen Tanzer, International Wine Cellar, May/June 2011

“Aromatic nose combines orange blossom, fresh hay, honey and a whiff of flowers...The dry, intense palate offers flavors similar to the aromas, turning firmer and more precise with air. Good classic Pinot Grigio.”

88 POINTS 2008 Vintage, Stephen Tanzer, International Wine Cellar, May/June 2010

“Aromas of buttery stone fruits and flowers...Supple, ripe and smooth...A sweet hint of nuts may be from the 2% Sauvignon Blanc component. This broad, easygoing wine offers a rather full texture.”

90 POINTS 2007 Vintage, Stephen Tanzer, International Wine Cellar, May/June 2009

“...Fresh peach and lemon on the nose, with notes of honey, butter and earth. Quite delicate on the palate, with lovely subtle intensity and very good cut to the peach and orange blossom flavors. Lively acidity gives grip and verve to the mid-palate and finish. Another excellent value.”

90 POINTS 2006 Vintage, Stephen Tanzer, International Wine Cellar, May/June 2008

“...Fresh and fruit-driven, with lively acidity giving the middle palate a firmness. I find the saline minerality and subtle florality here to be quite intriguing..”

90 POINTS 2005 Vintage, Stephen Tanzer, International Wine Cellar, May/June 2007

“Pale golden color. Aromas of hay, orange, smoke and spices. Juicy, dry and classic, with very good intensity; broad but not thick. Finishes quite long, with subtle notes of orange peel and spice.”

88 POINTS 2004 Vintage, Robert Parker, The Wine Advocate, Dec 2005

“The 2004 Pinot Grigio exhibits ripe honeyed pear and peach characteristics, delicious up-front fruit on the attack and mid-palate, and a clean, fresh finish. This tasty effort is one of the finest Pinot Grigios made in California..”

90 POINTS 2003 Vintage, Stephen Tanzer, International Wine Cellar, May/June 2005

“...Fat, smoky and thick, with exotic fruits and marzipan leavened by firm mineral spine. A touch of sweetness is nicely balanced by sound acidity. Concentrated, almost honeyed Pinot Grigio with lovely richness and length..”

91 POINTS 2002 Vintage, Stephen Tanzer, International Wine Cellar, May/June 2004

“There is no better Pinot Grigio being produced in the New World than Luna’s....This fresh, medium to full-bodied effort is an example of a hedonistic dry white at its finest..”

91 POINTS, SMART BUY 2001 Vintage, James Laube, Wine Spectator, Dec 2002

“Remarkably complex and compelling. Ripe and rich, loaded with tiers of fig, roasted almond, spice, vanilla bean, cream and tangy lemon overtones. Excellent viscosity, with tart, lingering quince nuances..”
